

WINSTON GAMACHE

HORTICULTURAL CONSULTANT

I am a cool climate garden expert, plant scientist, and food forest aficionado. I am an artistic person who uses my passions for colour, and "all things plants" as a way to help people to develop and create their dream gardens on their urban and rural properties.

Winston@earthworm.ca

780 201 3431

Edmonton, Alberta

SKILLS

- Solution Finding & Design
- Grafting and Pruning
- Pest and Disease Management
- Soil Building and Care
- Communication & Education
- Plant Propagation
- Plant Identification
- Urban agriculture
- Plant zone management

Bachelor Science Honors

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY

- Biochemistry Major - Biology Minor
- Dean' Honors List 2013 and 2014
- Found sanctuary in caring for the school's conservatory collection

WORK EXPERIENCE

Program Coordinator

Edmonton Horticultural Society

- Oversaw and assisted in the execution of programs
- Team leader for multiple projects

Orchard Manager

Journey North Cider Co.

- Planning mixed orchard layout and variety selection
- Planning windrows, cultivation of fruits and vegetables
- Focus on soil building and regenerative techniques
- Staff training on planting and care routines

Lead Annuals Grower

Greenland Garden Centre

- Managing growth and care of annual and tropical plants
- Seeding, propagation, nutrition, pest ID & management
- Advice to customers for all types of plants
- 630 CHED gardening show host

Restoring Our Watershed NGO Internship

El Centro Verde, Guanacaste, Costa Rica

- Sustainable farming placement
- Propagation of trees for reforestation